A Six Page Paper.

We said last week that it was our intention to enlarge our paper, but we did not think then that the enlargement was so soon. We greet you this morning with a six page paper which is a 50% enlargement. This is not permanent, we had so much advertising this week, we thought to carry it all on the four pages would be cheating our readers, thus we printed the six pages. Our intention is, if the business justifies, to make the paper a six column folio instead of a five. The six page paper of the present size would be even a larger paper, but the press work is too great on a six paper. If you want to see the paper enlarge and improve come in and pay up, and in this way help us to get money to buy a new cylinder press, for we will have to buy one if we enlarge.

Slight Change in R. R. Time Card

The L. & N. has changed time again. For particulars see any paper in the Bluegrass or Louisville. Mountain people can guess at the time to meet trains, they don't amount to much any way, and besides they have to use the L. & N. or walk since that octopus has illegally bought all competing lines in this territory.

Irvine Sun Suspends.

The Irvine Sun has suspended. It evidently only came into existence to aid the Republican candidates in their recent campaign, but could not stand the sour mash of disfranchising the voters of one precinct, and stealing the ballot boxes in order that his party might win.

A Popular Store Advertisement.

Mrs. Williams has a two column advertisement in this issue. Mrs. Williams always keeps a full store of the most stylish and serviceable goods. She always makes the price attractive and this is certainly an important feature in these days of high cost of living.

Bowen Fined.

Reese Bowen had his trial in the Circuit Court at Stanton this week for his part of the shooting in the Bowen-Skidmore melee about one year ago when ex-Sheriff Billy Bowen was killed. He was fined $150.00. The jury trying this case came from Clark county.

Grass is growing like Spring of the year, and it is warm enough to do without fires in sitting rooms. It all comes in handy, as feed is scarce with farmers and money to buy coal with is limited in the city.

The Mt. Sterling cattle market was good Monday. Some feeding cattle sold as high as seven cents. Mules and hogs were very dull.

Eldean flour $2.40 per hundred pounds, 00c for 25 lb. sacks, granulated sugar, 20 lbs. for $1, or $4.75 per hundred pounds, roasted coffee 10c per pound.

Hardwick & Company,

The Killing.

As stated last week, we were unable to give the particulars of the killing near Union Hall, or even give the full names of the participants of the fight. It was James S. Puckett that was killed dead on the spot, and by Jesse McKinney after McKinney had first been shot by Puckett. McKinney's wound, which was in the breast, proved to not be so serious, and he will get well.

The trouble arose over McKinney's cutting what Puckett contended was a line tree. The tree was standing on a piece of ground that had been in controversy between the two men, but had been settled by McKinney taking the timber and Puckett the land, and this tree was thought by McKinney to be his by this agreement.

Injured in Railroad Accident.

One man was seriously injured and four freight cars demolished in a wreck which occurred on Saturday on the L. & E. railroad on the "Horseshoe" curve between Monica and St. Helen's. The cause was said by officials to have been spreading rails, and the cars rolled down the embankment, together with the caboose. Mr. Newman, the conductor, was severely bruised and pinned under the caboose, which caught fire. He was rescued, however, by the rest of the train crew and by people living on the other side of the river, who also assisted in putting out the fire.

Judge Benton's Father Dies.

Mr. Wm. Benton, father of Judge J. M. Benton, died at his home at Waco, Madison county, Thursday morning after several weeks illness of hardening of the arteries. He was seventy-five years old and a splendid Christian gentleman.

He is survived by Judge Benton, his only son and child. His wife preceded him in death in the early spring.

Workmen on Strike.

All workmen on the Fayette National Bank 15-story building have gone on a strike because union labor was not employed in the placing of the marble furnishings. The contractors employed non-union labor because there were no union laborers of that kind in Lexington. Those on the strike demand that only union labor be employed on the building, and where the class of work requires it, union labor must be imported from some other city.

Express Company's Tax.

We see in our exchanges where the Adams Express Company pays a franchise tax in other cities, but if they have ever paid any city tax in Clay City it is unknown to us, and if they have not, they should be made do so, and too for as many years back as the law will admit of collecting.

A number of hogs were butchered last week, and it is feared this prevailing warm weather will probably spoil a part of it. Saltpeter is said to preserve meat when common salt will fail, and borax will keep the flies away.

Dying in Missouri.

Relatives of Mr. A. R. Lowry have received a message from Knox City, Mo., stating that Mr. Lowry is at the point of death and the end is hourly expected. Mr. Lowry went from this county to Illinois about ten years ago, but continued to live there until a few months ago when he went to Missouri and prepared to farm there. His health failing, he sold out and was fixing to move to Colorado for the benefit of his health, but was unable to go. Mr. Lowry married Miss Edith Christopher, of Spout Spring, but has no children. He is forty years old.

Contests in Lee.

Three contest suits over the recent election have been filed in the Lee Circuit Court, as follows: Arch Snowden, Democrat, against L. F. Flanery, Republican, for Sheriff; G. W. Pendergrass, Republican, against Robert C. Porter, Democrat, for County Clerk, and Dr. G. W. Smith, Democrat, against Green Kilburn, Republican, for County Judge.

All are waiting to see the inside of the ballot boxes and have a recount of the vote. This is the second contest Flanery has had to defend, as his Republican opponent in the primary contested and won in the Circuit Court but in the Court of Appeals Flanery won the election.

Are Land Prices Declining?

We have noticed several sales of Bluegrass land lately that strikes us as being much lower than formerly. One of the sales striking us very forcefully is a farm of 108 acres in Fayette county, eight miles from Lexington. It was sold at public auction and brought but $70.00 per acre. The farm was on a good pike and well improved.

Lexington Leader Sold.

The Lexington Leader has been sold to a company of Capitalists of Lexington for $120,000. The paper was owned and published by Mrs. Sam J. Roberts, widow of the late S. J. Roberts. The paper will be taken over by the new company January 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas, of Northmiddlesboro, and their son, Val. Douglas, of Lexington, spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. Carr, and on Saturday the father and son tried their luck in the huntsman's field.

We had a man to complain to us the other day because he had to pay a tax on his income. We proffered to pay his tax and take his income, thus relieving him of his burden, but he didn't accept.

Our Stanton news is shifted to the fifth page where the columns are longer which is necessary to accommodate these valuable items.

The Clair case transferred from Breathitt county to the Powell Circuit Court has been continued to the next Court.

Kentucky Crop Report.

The crop report as of November 1st, was intentionally delayed a few days for the purpose of giving the farmers an opportunity of ascertaining the final yield of the corn crop, and to get a better idea as to the final yield of tobacco. This is the last report that the Department will publish in 1913. The next report will be as of May 1st, next year.

The long drouth in Kentucky has been broken. There has been sufficient rain-fall to start the Fall sown grain off in splendid condition, and stock water in most places is now plentiful. Fall grass is starting to grow, but it is too late in the season for any great amount of pasture to be secured. The cold weather and short supply of grass have caused the farmers to begin feeding stock from a month to six weeks earlier than usual. Quite a good deal of Fall plowing has been done.

The final yield of corn in Kentucky for 1913 as reported is 20.5 bushels per acre. The Government estimate for 1912 was 30.4 bushels. The final yield of Burley tobacco is reported as 655 pounds per acre. As there was an acreage of approximately 175,000, this would indicate that the Burley crop of Kentucky would be 115,000,000 pounds. The final yield of Dark tobacco is 503 pounds per acre, and with an acreage of approximately 150,000, makes the total yield of Dark tobacco about 75,000,000 pounds. The drouth has cut corn about one-third, Burley tobacco about one-third and Dark tobacco about one-half.

The percent of wheat sown is given as 91.5 and the condition of this wheat as 91.8. This indicates rather a large crop of wheat for next year. A large acreage of rye, given as 96.5, has been sown, and the condition is given as 93.8. Alfalfa, clover, orchard grass and blue grass all show up in fairly good condition. The rains have revived many of the grasses that looked as if they would not be of any more value.

Hog cholera has abated in certain sections of the State, but is raging in the mountain sections and in Western Kentucky. Many of the hogs that are usually fattened upon the mast of the timber regions are this year dying from cholera. Catarrhal fever, or Black Tongue has broken out among horses in but one place in the State, and that is in South-eastern Kentucky.

A great deal of the corn that has been produced is unsound. The supply of roughness is short, and with practically no winter pasture and with feeding beginning so early, a large death rate may be expected among the live stock of the State this winter. Warm, sanitary quarters are always a good thing for live stock, but are absolutely necessary where the supply of food is not up to the standard. Farmers can save the lives of a great many animals by preparing comfortable quarters for them now.

Respectfully,
J. W. NEWMAN,
Com'r of Agriculture.

SUNSHINE!

The Italians have a saying, "Where the sunlight is shut out, the doctor is let in." Fire, steam and a few powerful chemicals are the only things that will kill disease germs as quickly as sunlight. The germ in the spit of a consumptive, exposed to the glare of the July sun for an hour or two, are dead or harmless. Nor is the sun any more friendly to the other tiny enemies of mankind. Consequently, leave your windows and shutters open for the fresh air and sunshine several hours every day. If you are afraid it is going to fade the carpet, take up the carpet. Bare floors are cleaner and consequently more healthful any way. Instead of carpets use rugs and frequently expose them to the fresh air and sunshine. Give the fresh air and sunshine as much access to your whole body as possible. Exercise out of doors daily, with garments no heavier than necessary. The fresh air and sunshine, as well as the exercise, will stimulate the action of the skin in throwing off the waste products of the body.

It seems to us that one of the boldest robberies ever perpetrated in modern politics has been worked or attempted to be worked on the Democrats of Estill county. Three Democrats were elected to offices in the county in the recent election, and another one tied as reported in our paper last week. There was some irregularity in the returns, notably Miller's Creek, a Republican precinct didn't send in the ballot boxes as the law requires on the night of the election, but the Democrats didn't kick, and allowed the vote to stand which made the first announced result. When the final count was made, it was found that the Riddell precinct tally sheets had not been signed up, then the Republican part of the counters kicked and would not recognize the tally sheets when they were signed up after the election. During the night following, the ballot boxes were stolen from the Clerk's office. It was then thought the jig was up, but some way a tally sheet was preserved.

A contest follows and was tried yesterday, but we have not learned of the result.

If it were fair to allow a mistake to be corrected in the Republican precinct, why was it not fair to allow a similar correction to be made in a Democratic precinct? And if the Republicans had fairly won the election, why steal Democratic precinct ballot boxes when it was thought the tally sheet could not be used? The object is obvious. The Times never believed in contests, but we do believe in a punishment for dishonesty whether in politics or business.

It will be remembered that the Sheriff of the county is the referee when the two Commissioners cannot agree. This being true, the Democrats of Estill had a right to expect a fair deal from Sheriff J. P. Alumbaugh, as they voted for him and put him in office after he had been so unfairly dealt with by the members of his old party, the Republicans. In this they were mistaken, however.

Today one week will be Thanksgiving day. The day should be fitly observed and we hope to see it so kept. It is not altogether a day of sport and feasting but should be a day of real thanks giving sure enough. Let all try to make it such a day this year. None are so poor in this county but what they can find something to be thankful for.

Paris has won its fight for cheaper gas. It will be remembered that the Gas Company of that city holding both a natural gas franchise with a maximum rate of 40 cents and an artificial gas franchise with minimum charges of $1.10 per thousand cubic feet, endeavored to supply the natural gas at the artificial price. The people of the town, and the city council, acting in unison, have fought the light company to terms on every proposition and the gas will be furnished at the low rate and according to the provisions of the natural gas franchise.

This is an object lesson for every city. The citizens of Paris using gas, ordered the company to cut off the supply or furnish it at the natural gas price, and the city council labored to protect the citizens by taking steps to annul the franchises, and they gained the fight. What has been done in Paris can be done in every city if the people of the town and the officials will always, as in this case, put into practice the motto of our great Commonwealth—"United we stand, divided we fall."

They tell us the labor question is a serious question. They also tell us that the illiteracy problem is a serious problem. The overly educational enthusiasts say all should have a high school education; that it improves the morals, and that enlightenment makes us more religious. This is all a myth. How many laborers do you see with a high school education, and how many unprofaned college graduates do you meet.

Education inclines the mind to evade hard labor in nearly every instance, and it does not make us more religious, but it does make the individual more responsible for the sins that he commits. Every child should be taught to read well, calculate, and write, but to break our necks and spend all that we make to give every child a collegiate education is only inviting a famine in years to come. We favor high education, but not for all, because some must work and the educated man will not do hard manual labor.

One of the most impressive instructions ever given to a grand jury, that it has yet been our good fortune to hear, was that delivered at Stanton Monday to the Powell county grand jury. It was every word to the point, and every hearer was evidently deeply impressed. The crowd was so interested that hardly a move of anyone was noticed, and the audience was as noiseless as on a funeral occasion.

The Judge's reference to the election bribery cases was exhaustive and replete with facts and opinions of a high character. We heartily endorse every word he said, as apparently did every one in the house, and it was well filled. Every good citizen in Powell county is holding up Judge Benton's hands in his endeavor to bring about a reformation for good.

The grand jury receiving the instructions looked to us like men determined to do their duty as laid before them, and we are thus looking forward to its working with great anxiety, and are hopefully expecting to see the beginning of an ending of a long practiced evil, that of vote buying and selling.

Frequently we learn of some occurrence that is very valuable news, but yet we cannot get enough information to give the item publication. Often we learn of the death of some person, but cannot find out when they died, when the funeral was preached or by whom. In fact we can learn of none of the particulars. The same thing about marriages. Frequently we cannot learn anything except that so and so is married, but do not know whom they married or any other particulars. This should not be the case. Friends of persons knowing anything of importance should truthfully state the fact in a written note and leave or send it to this office.

Not long since we were paying a visit to one of our exchanges in a neighboring town and during our brief stay there we saw a number of evident friends calling at the office and leaving items of interest to the papers' readers. It is useless to say that this is one of the newest papers anywhere in the country.

If you expect to see something in the paper that you know should be there do not blame the editor for his ears are itching for news. The reason this item does not appear is because we could not learn the facts.

Several years ago the L. N. railroad bought out the Kentucky Central lines which let it into Cincinnati. In 1892 it also bought the C. & O. railroad, but this sale was annulled by the state because it was a competing line of the L. & N. A little later it bought out the L. & A. and the courts held this sale was not in conflict with the state laws. In 1909 the L. & N. bought out the Frankfort & Cincinnati road. This sale was annulled by the state courts. The latest attempt to again break the laws of Kentucky along these lines is in the purchase of the L. & E. If this is not an attempt to monopolize all the roads of this part of the state what is it? We are against monopolies and this is why we are against the sale.

The Woman's Equal Rights Association of the State has furnished us with a page of plate. We will gladly use this as our space permits, for we are heartily in favor of woman's suffrage, notwithstanding they have greatly surprised us in their vote for trustees. We confidently expected them to hold their vote on a higher plane than the average man, but in this it has been very disappointing in many instances.

We saw a team from three miles of Irvine hauling freight from the depot here yesterday to save freight. My, if the L. & N. charges more for freight on the Irvine line than they do on this line, we pity the merchants there. We guess they do or else Geo. Ware, W. G. Patrick and other merchants much nearer Irvine would haul from there instead of Clay City as they do.

How about that two cents a mile rate over railroads? Is travel in Kentucky worth half as much more than it is in Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and other states? It should be as we are forced to pay that much more any way. We would like to see one good Legislature at Frankfort, and if we ever do we are sure the two cent law will be enacted.

The man who at first agrees with you on every proposition, and urges you to proceed in a certain way, frequently is only "soaping" you to get your confidence so he can throw you down in the ditch while he marches on with banners flying. We admire an open enemy but despise the ways of a deceitful creature.

The wiser a person is the more foolish his blunders appear to be.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION.

Farmers' Week at the Agricultural College.

Every farmer in Kentucky should be interested in the approaching meeting of the Kentucky Corn Growers' Association, especially in view of the fact that it is associated, as regards time and place, with most of the other leading farmers' organizations of the State.

The advances made by Kentucky in the last few years in the production of a good quality of corn have been rather remarkable. It will be of interest to many Kentucky farmers to know that in the classes offered for the best ten ears of white dent corn at the National Corn Show last year, Kentucky stood first among the States.

The annual meeting of the Corn Growers' Association is to be held on Wednesday, January seventh, 1914, but the corn show will continue throughout the week of January fifth to tenth. The program of Corn Day will be made up of lectures and demonstrations bearing on soil fertility and other fundamental questions upon which the growing of corn like any other crop depends.

Besides the corn show, which will include the cereals, there will be in progress during the week educational exhibits and competitive shows in horticulture, dairy products and poultry, and a tobacco show. It will be seen from this synopsis that farmers whose larger interests represent these various lines of agriculture will be brought together for a general convention and for instruction by noted experts, and all has been crowded into the space of one week, that those especially interested in two or more farm specialties may without great loss of time attend both conventions, and others if they so desire.

The other conventions are those of the Beef Cattle Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, the Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association, the Poultrymen the Bee Keepers' and the State Horticultural Society. In most cases at least one specialist will be brought from a distance to deliver the principal address at the meeting of each one of these associations.

The women's department has not been slighted, as special arrangements are being made for work in home economies which will be of great value to women who live in rural communities. They will also be very much interested in the poultry show, the dairy products exhibit and convention, and perhaps in the bee keepers' convention. A prospectus of this week of work is being prepared and will be mailed free upon application.

A very attractive premium list has been provided for the corn show and for the other shows where competitive exhibits are to be made, which will be sent free upon request. Some may not consider it worth while to send such corn as they have which has necessarily been produced under very adverse conditions during the past season, but it must be borne in mind that all have suffered from the same cause and the chances will be equal. Those who cannot attend the show are entitled to send their corn by express with the privilege of having it placed in competition.

Farmers' Week constitutes the opening of the winter Short Course of Ten Weeks which is arranged for farmers who cannot spare the time and money to take a longer course but who want to gain some valuable and practical suggestions as regards better farming.

For further information, address T. R. Bryant, Supt. Extension Division, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

The Game Laws.

No person shall hunt without license; provided, however, owners of land, their child if resident, tenants or their children if residents may hunt on their own land or leasehold or land immediately adjoining theirs.

Hunters must carry their license while hunting.

License may be obtained from County Clerk.

Lawful to kill—Quail, November 15 to January 1; pheasants, November 15 to January 1; doves, August 1 to February 1; wood chuck, June 20 to February 1; wild goose or wild duck, August 15 to April 1; rabbits, November 15 to September 16; black and fox squirrels, June 15 to September 15 and November 15 to February 1.

Unlawful to buy, sell or offer for sale at any time, any quail, pheasant or wild turkey.

Unlawful to receive or transport any wild turkey, quail or native pheasant, unless lawfully killed and in the possession of the hunter.

An Object Lesson.

A concrete illustration of the power of a common purpose was recently had in a bit of road building in Northeast Michigan. Between Bay City and Mackinaw City was a highway of 250 miles of road, swamps and corduroy road. The citizens of the section wanted a good road, and resolved to have it and have it quick; so 8,000 farmers, business men, professional men and land-owners made day laborers of themselves for one day. They brought 4,000 teams and 750 automobiles. The women to the number of 2,500, undertook to come and feed the workers along the route. So they brought baskets and dishes and great boilers full of coffee and made luncheon that a king might well have enjoyed. When night fell there was a stretch of graveled roadway where at sunrise had been only an impassable trail. It passed through forty-eight townships, in eight counties.

New Flag for Kentucky.

A new flag for the State is proposed by the Kentucky division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who have undertaken to supply a "new and better flag." The plan of campaign is described as follows:

One side to be a deep blue field on which appears two men grasping each other's hands and the old legion, "United We Stand, Divided We Fall," on the other a white field denoting peace, the center a profile head of a woman and a man encircled by this legend, "In Unity Invincible."

This flag will be presented to the General Assembly in 1914 and offered for adoption for the next century.

"An Ardent Fighter."

The Clay City Times announces that the size of its paper will shortly be enlarged and the subscription price will be changed from fifty cents a year to one dollar. Both are steps in the right direction. Fifty cents a year will hardly pay for the white paper the Times will use in a year. For many years the price of commodities have been advancing until they have soared almost out of reach, but still the newspapers have either maintained their old subscription rate or lowered it. The Times is an ardent fighter of the "soulless corporations" and its editor, Mr. J. E. Burghe, is now preparing suit to have the sale of the L. & E. railroad to the L. & N. set aside.—Winchester Sun.

One More Citizen Gets Justice.

Some time ago G. A. Reed, of Shelbyville, bought a car load of cattle at Mt. Sterling and shipped them to himself over the C. & O. but the C. & O. doesn't go to Shelbyville; it therefore delivered the cattle to the L. & N. at Lexington by special agreement with that road, and the L. & N., to suit its convenience, routed the cattle by Louisville which caused delay in their arrival. The C. & O. could have delivered the cattle to the Southern Railroad when they would have gone straight through to Shelbyville, and thus avoid the delay. The roads were acting to suit their own personal advantage, and thus damaged the shipper, whereupon Mr. Reed sued and was awarded $250 damages in the lower court, and the Court of Appeals has just upheld this decision.

Tight Clothes Injurious.

Tight corsets on women and tight belts on men are constant causes of serious ailments of the stomach, according to surgeons attending the Clinical Congress in Chicago.

INHERITED!

"He inherited consumption"! This is the way a great many people account for every case of the disease. If the parents did not have it, sometimes it is maintained that the disease was transmitted by inheritance from some more distant ancestor. This is all nonsense. The new-born baby of consumptive parents is not affected with the disease. However, when a case of consumption in the family is being ignorantly or carelessly handled at home, it is perfectly possible for a little child to be infected at any time after birth. That, however, is not inheritance; a healthy adopted baby would suffer the same fate. It does not matter even if all of your relatives died of consumption, you need not necessarily travel the same dreary road. If you will live as much as possible in the open air, eat plenty of simple, well cooked foods, and no other, exercise, bathe and sleep regularly, and consult your physician as soon as you seem to be breaking down, there is no reason why you should die of consumption. It's the Cutting Edge.

Your scythe may have the proper "set", may "ring" true, have back of ample strength—and still be wanting in the cutting edge. Often, scythes that are perfect otherwise, have one or more soft spots along the edge—are not uniformly tempered—have a hidden flaw. But—the one defect means the difference between a good and a poor scythe. BLUE GRASS SCYTHES are a perfect product of the scythe maker's skill. Perfect from point to heel—from cutting edge to back. The steel used is of an extra special high grade. Blade is polished with polished edge and back. Sharpened ready for use. We have every confidence in the quality of Blue Grass Scythes. That's why we can afford to guarantee them.

STANTON NEWS.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Judge Benton's father last week and the serious illness of his wife at the present time. His mother was buried only seven montes ago.

We are enjoying a quiet time in Stanton now while Court is in session, as many of the law violators are out of town or else keeping very quiet. As soon as Court is over some of them will return, and we will know that they are here pretty soon. We are told that some of the boys always have business away from town when Court is in session.

Before the election came off we used to see a few of the victorious candidates out to church but since then they have failed to show up. It is strange how men when they are running for an office will take to going to church all of a sudden and then after it is over they have no more use for us. Mister, there will be more people vote for you next time if you will make it a regular habit of attending services and take an active part in the work.

There are two signs hanging up in the Court House forbidding persons to spit on the floor under a penalty of a five dollar fine. Better take those signs down Mr. Custodian of the Court House, as few pay any attention to them; or else call the attention to the Court to the matter and fine a few score of men. This will soon put a stop to it. There is an accumulation of years tobacco juice, diseased spittum and excretions from tuberculous lungs on the floor and around the stove, and it is a menace to the health of the Judge, the jury and everybody who sits in the room. What about it?

At the Presbyterian Church last Sunday night the ladies of the church gave a missionary program which was greatly enjoyed by all. At the close the members gave their Thanks Offering as a contribution to the work in India and Africa. This thank offering was money given above what they felt they could afford to give, and not what they didn't need. That is a true spirit of giving to God, to give till it becomes a sacrifice and we feel it. Miss Kabele gave a splendid review of the book, "The Mansion" by Henry Van Dyke and it would be well for everybody to read that book for the wonderful lesson it teaches about those mansions in glory.

Circuit Court began on Monday and there was a good sized crowd on hands to hear the instruction of Judge J. M. Benton given to the Grand Jury. The writer has listened to many instructions to Grand Juries, but those given by Judge Benton were the best we ever heard. His principal instructions were on the use of money and whiskey in the buying and selling of votes. There could be nothing better given in the Clay City Times than those instructions in full, but as the writer's space is limited to two columns each week, he will give a brief summary. "The theory of our government is that it rests upon the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating judgment of the voters, and this theory is thwarted when the voter is debauched and procured or influenced to vote by dollars and cents or other sordid means." Then quoting from the Court of Appeals he continues. "A wrong to society and to the security of our institutions is accomplished when the elector is corrupted, as no deadlier blow can be struck at civil government than the one that is aimed at the right of the voter to cast a free ballot. The bribe taker and the bribe giver, in high and low places, are the greatest, most persistent and most insidious foes that modern government has to contend with, for the evil effects of their corrupt bargaining impairs the strength and weakens the efficiency of every department of government that it touches.  The bribe taken and the bribe given are alike denounced by the statute. The offence of each is equally odious in the sight of the law. Both are enemies of good government." Then Judge Benton continues, "I don't know what percentage of the voting population of your county is purchasable, but I know and you know that it is alarmingly high and that it is increasing with appalling rapidity. Every hotly contested primary election breeds a new crop and starts a new strain which runs into your general elections.  If the traffic in votes in this county has grown in seventy-five years from nothing to eight hundred or a thousand men who now sell their votes, what will the number be in another twenty-five or fifty, or seventy-five years unless something is done, not only to check, but to stop it, to actually kill the beast? Do you not tremble and shudder for what your children and grand children may come to unless you stop it? The responsibility for letting this evil, this crime, grow and become fixed on our people, rest upon the last generation and ours, and if it is to be stopped, the task is yours and you must meet it now. If you shove away and stave off the meeting and settling of this question you only shove your children and your children's children into the mud which you have side stepped and refused to clean up. Are you the kind of men to do that? It is up to you gentlemen to take the first legal step towards cleaning the county of this festering sore that is feed in on our body politic, and is eating more ravenously each year.  The duty is yours to stop this traffic in votes and to stop it now.  Now gentlemen, you know and I know that some of these provisions of the law were violated in the recent election. What are you going to do about it? Somebody is guilty and the guilty should be punished. The law must be vindicated. The outraged sentiment of the law-loving, law-abiding people in this county demands that an example be made of these who defied the law, and that a lesson be taught that shall never be forgotten. The duty of taking the next step to bring about the punishment of these offenders is yours. You can't pass it over to anybody else. The proposition is a simple one. Shall the cause of righteousness, or shall the cause of evil be triumphant in this county? The decision of the question cannot be postponed. The issue has been tendered and must be met. I believe you will meet it. Your task is not a light one.  Now gentlemen, I leave this matter in your hands with the confident hope that you will meet the situation courageously and honestly, and take such action as will at once and forever rid your county of this pernicious and corrupting practice." This is but a tenth part of Judge Benton's charge to the Grand Jury.

We regret that we cannot give it all, but it shows his determination to go at the bottom of this terrible evil, and it is our duty as citizens to come to his aid and do all in our power to rid our beloved county of these vote buyers and despicable floaters in our midst. Every man who is a true citizen and has the interest of his county and her people at heart, will help in this great fight. As Judge Benton well says, This is not a question of politics, but it is a moral question that vitally concerns our government.

The following men compose the Grand Jury: J. A. Rogers, Foreman, Thos. Conlee, Jr., Worth Garrett, Edward Rose, James Hutson, Chester Everman, Millard Shearer, A. M. Potts, Henry Faulkner, Bert Eaton, Adam Kirk and Frank Crowe. The writer does not know all these men personally but he is informed by the Editor of this paper that they are a splendid set of men. We are glad of that, and we feel that they will do our county a service in investigating all infractions of the law. We are also informed that we have good petit jurymen. The petit jurymen can do more for the county than the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury may make a thorough investigation of the condition in the county and make many indictments, and then a petit jury will take that case and either acquit the man or else bring in a verdict of guilty with the lowest fine attached. If a man is guilty then give him the limit. He knew he was violating the law when he did that act, then let him pay for it.

There were two cases tried at this present term of court which were almost identical. One jury gave the man a fine of $100 while the other jury gave their man only $25 fine. As long as juries will make a fine the lowest penalty we will have violations of the law. More stiff fines will help wonderfully in purging our county of law violators. And as Judge Benton says, "A few more convictions for perjury would help tremendously."

Sid Larison was fined $100 for

Did You Ever Devote an Entire Day to Digging Post Holes?

PROBABLY YOU HAVE—AND MORE THAN THAT. In looking back over our day's work we like to feel that we have accomplished something, be it the digging of post holes or the useful exertion of our energy in some other direction.

Your day's "showing" lies not in the amount of work, but in the amount of holes.

With the Blue Grass you can with the same amount of labor accomplish far greater results—dig more holes—because it has the stiffest blade and cuts the deepest hole with the least expansion of handles—and least exertion.

The handles are hickory, the frame malleable iron, the blades OCTAGON shaped FORGED steel.

The Blue Grass has so many good points over any other Post Hole Digger, that we'd really want you to try it. There's always a little plot of ground around our premises available for the purpose.

SYMPTOMS!

Not one person in fifty knows accurately the symptoms of beginning consumption. The doctor can detect some things which the layman can not; but the following signs anyone can notice. The commonest symptom is continual cough, either a few spasms of coughing each day or a little hacking cough at intervals all day long. A slight feverish condition between one and seven o'clock in the afternoon, generally about 4 o'clock, and sometimes lasting only a half hour, is another common sign. If a person has both the cough and the fever the trouble is almost surely tuberculosis, especially if combined with a steady loss of weight; a gradual loss of appetite; a feeling of being continually tired or lack of interest in life, or night sweats, the other common signs of beginning consumption. Any one of these persisting for some weeks should cause the person concern and send him to the doctor. Don't delay. Delay is dangerous! Find out what ails you! Everything can be gained and nothing can be lost by knowing whether or not your affliction is tuberculosis.

KENTUCKY WOMEN'S RIGHTS ASSOCIATION
LEXINGTON, KY.

SEPTEMBER, 1913.

A bill will be presented to the Kentucky Legislature in January asking a constitutional amendment granting to the women of Kentucky the right to vote on all questions submitted to the people.

If the bill goes through the Legislature of 1914—it must be agreed to by three-fifths of all the members elected in each House—the question will be submitted to the people in the fall of 1915. If the amendment is passed by the people, Kentucky women may vote in the elections of 1916.

The women of nine Western states are already full citizens. Kentucky can no longer lead as she used to do in the advance of freedom. The question now is how far behind will she follow. All the Western states will soon be in the fold. In the East the issue has become so paramount that in New York and New Jersey this year all three political parties included planks declaring for woman suffrage in their platforms. There is little doubt that the people of both states will vote on the constitutional amendments in 1915.

If Kentucky has to follow New York and New Jersey in, let her not wait for any more states of the "effete East" to precede her.

If governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, then the consent of every adult citizen should be asked.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Came Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Calron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without it tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
